Next Improvement Planned by Rev. Peter McOscar-Chicago Guest Recovers Valuables Lost at Ocean House, Watch Fill-Carolina Blanked in Saturday's Game-Tag Day Today.

A Chica'zo lady guest at the Ocean house, V. Sch Hill, when she went to dinner Friday evening took a small bag with her that contained $249 in cash, a necklace and a highly prized diamond pin. When she retired from the dining room she missed the bag and reported her loss to the head waiter. As no trace of it could be found the matter was reported to Manager, J. Frank Champlin and by him to Chief of Police Bransfield. The chief went to the hotel and commenced an investigation that resulted in the restoration of the missing valuables. Chief Bransfield caused the arrest of two waiters, Dewey and Allen, under a civil process served by Deputy Sheriff Mitchell, just to hold the suspected men for investigation. The waiters were taken to the police station and in a short time the chief succeeded in unraveling the matter in connection with the missing bag of valuables.

Dewey saw the bag drop from the Chicago lady's lap and when she went she did not pick it from the floor nor did Waiter Dewey, until the lady left the room. Another waiter, Allen by name, saw the move and Dewey let laim into the game, which was to take the valuables to New York for disposal, and then divide the cash found and the proceeds of the sale. They rolled the bag in a paper and took it to another colored man, Green by name, a fireman at the hotel, and gave it into his custody for safekeeping. Green claimed he did not know the contents, but when he saw a reward posted for the return of certain valuables he opened the package, saw that bles he opened the package, saw that he had the goods, and intended to de-liver them and get the $100 offered The lady who owned the valuables would make no formal complaint against the accused, as she was to leave for her home in Chicago, Saturday, and did not want to be detained as a witness, nor did she care to be ipconvenienced with the prosecution of the waiters in connection with the matter, especially as she had received the lost articles. So she praised the commendable action of the police and let it so at that. The waiters in the case were discharged from police custoday and will wait no more at the Ocean house.

Not since the parish of the Immaculate Conception was created has there been such marked improvement as has been effected during the pastorate of Rev. Peter McOscar. The church edifice has been redecorated repainted, and repaired, electric lights installed, and the edifice and other property put in first class condition. The zealous pastor is making endeavor to further improve the general condition of the pastor is making endeavor to further improve the general condition of the parish by the addition of a parochial school. With this plan in view the parish has just acquired a desirable piece of land well adapted for convent and school purposes and conveniently located to the church.

Recently Martin H. Spellman purchased from Mrs. Asa Burdick the valuant lot at the corner of Dixon and High street. This has been transferred to the Church of the Immaculate Conception and will probably be used for school purposes. The lot has a frontage of 120 feet on High street and 180 feet on Dixon street, and is located diagonally opposite the church about two hundred feet.

One great virtue in the new tariff law, including the corporation tax, is that, taken with the current effort of that, taken with the current effort of the administration to keep down or re-duce governmental expenditures and to reform the methods of collecting the customs revenue, it has by its revenue-producing capacity turned a deficit in the ordinary operations of the govern-ment of $58,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1909, to a surplus in the first full year of the law, ending Aug. 5, 1910, of $28,000,000. From a revenue 1910, of $26,000,000. From a revenue standpoint, then, there can be no controversy over the effectiveness of the ew law. Increased revenue indicates acressed imports, and an examination our imports during the past year will disclose a most substantial in-crease in manufacturers' material, from which, in the making of finished prowhich, in the making of finished products, whether for exportation or home ducts, whether for exportation or home consumption, has come a larger volume of employment for our wage carners, a larger purchasing power and a greater played added white mot displace home production, they must be of benefit to all. Generally speaking, a full measure of industrial speaking, a full measure of industrial activity in production, transportation and distribution has accompanied the operation of the new law. Under the maximum and minimum provisions we have concluded treaties with all foreign nations, gaining the best possible terms for entrance to their markets without sacrificing our own. By the Payne tariff law we have at last done justice to the Philippines by allowing the producers of those islands the benefit of our markets with such limitations as to prevent injury to our home indus-

These amendments were in accordance with the text of the republican platform. Subsequently bills were drawn embodying this recommended legislation, in which, while the principle was maintained, there were limitations introduced, as justice suggested, after a conference with all the parties interested. The bill was submitted to the congress and after a within the classes described were withmitted to the congress and after a great deal of discussion both in the house and the senate, it was enacted in Aleska, in order to await proper into law, with many amendments legislation. Doubt arose as to the executive power to make these with effect of the recommendations except to strike out certain provisions promto forbid one rallway company to acquire stock in a competing company, and to secure supervision by the interstate commerce commission of the Issue of stock and bonds by Interinvestment of savings in government bonds of small denominations, for which the bill provides. Like the tar-iff bill and the railroad bill, this was put through each house of congres by a republican majority, and was signed by a republican president.

The legislation of congress in respect to the navy department is a full compliance with the promises of the republican platform. In spite of a proper desire to keep down appropria tione, congress saw the necessity for a continuance of our present naval policy and a regular strengthening of tht navy by the addition of two more battleships. More than this, it has enabled the secretary of the navy to carry out a reform in the busintas management of the department and a reorganization of the bureaus and staff of the navy so as to contribute ma-terially to its effectiveness as one of the military arms of the government. Although the democratic national platform apparently favored the in-

Neither the democrats of the house nor the democrats of the senate as a body, although their platform formally declared in favor of conservation, have taken any active part or can be counted upon to assist materially in the solution of these complicated questions. Another subject of pressing importance is that of the improvement of our waterways. The present congress has enacted a rivers and harbors bill, appropriating more than $41,000,000 for the carrying out of a number of well-defined plans for the permanent improvement of rivers and harbors within a certain period, and in addition authorizing contracts to be entered into subject to future appropriations by congress, aggregating over ten millions of dollars.
